Article I. Name: Environmental Society. Patron: Dr.Aliya Minhas. Assistant Professor

Article II. Location: Academic Block 6, Office No. 1, Ground floor, Shaheed Benazir Bhutto Women University Peshawar.

Article III. Rationale of Society: Maintaining a clean environment and raising awareness of environmental issues amongst the female students on campus is one of the needs of the day. There was a need to establish this society to create awareness and promote environment friendly practices throughout the campus amongst the students. This Society will encourage green and environmentally friendly practices on campus amongst the students. It will also play an important role in mass communication of many environmental problems (and their possible solutions) that we are experiencing on campus. This will be carried out by organising seminars, workshops, invited talks of environmental scientists, running events on various UN international days related to the environment, peaceful awareness walks, etc. Behavioural changes in societies towards environmental problems do not take place overnight. It is a slow and painstaking process and the academia is an excellent platform where we can begin this. The establishment of the Environment Society was not only proven beneficial for students, but also for the faculty members and the university administration.

Article IV. Aims and Objectives

The Environmental Society aims to:

- To promote a campaign to improve the overall campus environment.

- To develop awareness in the students regarding environment friendly and green practices for the promotion of a clean and green campus and for saving the environment.
- To encourage and enhance knowledge, understanding and appreciation of nature, and the practice of conservation of natural resources among the students.
- To provide a forum for bringing together experiences related to the environment from individuals, institutions and organizations, such as to hold talks in the society's seminar series.
- To arrange various events and activities on various World Days related to the environment.
- To create awareness regarding environmental pollution and environmental degradation, and its effects on human health.
- To create and spread awareness regarding environment-friendly and green practices for the promotion of a clean and green campus by organizing various events and activities, thus contributing to sustainable development in the face of climate change”.

Article V-Article IX..... Common for all societies

Article X. Code of Conduct for Societies:

1. Members of the Environmental Society must uphold the highest standards of integrity, honesty, and transparency and exercise their professional skills and judgement to the best of their ability, serving as an example to others and upholding the reputation of the community.
2. Develop and maintain their professional knowledge and skills, engaging in Continuing Professional Development to enable them to contribute to furthering the profile of Environmental Society.

Rationale of Society. Changes in civilizations and morals of the sports student, as an approach of thoughts, with calmness and motive is the rationale of Student Sports and Adventure Society. We should not just provide opportunities for students to achieve good academic results but actively promote the benefits of a wider curriculum to students by involving them in Sports and Adventure activities.

Aims and Objectives:

Aim: To Underscored the aim of student Sports and adventure society for women student revealed that the latent structure of the types of Sports and adventure society motives consisted of compromising action with friends, popularity, social status and relaxation through interaction with different students from different regions with different thoughts. We must motivate our students in situations where one is physically capable of performing the task but is uncertain about her capabilities, which in many cases is a problem that drives female not to begin with a chosen activity.

Objective: The studies around the world have shown that young people are not as active as they need to be. The understanding that why individual participate in student sports and adventure society is not a simple matter but the most important issues is that female have many reasons for getting involved in it, and some of their reasons may have different point of thoughts. As a firm believer students have to engage them in Student Sports and adventure activities for their own development both mentally & physically and to help them is our prime role as higher education providers.
