Department of Integrated Biosciences

ABOUT US

The Department of Bioinformatics has been upgraded to the Department of Integrated Biosciences. The department, which was established in 2007 and offered one program BS Bioinformatics, has grown from offering a single program to now providing three undergraduate programs: BS Bioinformatics, BS Biotechnology, BS Molecular Biology and Advance Studies Programs MS & PhD Bioinformatics. The fields of bioinformatics, biotechnology, and molecular biology are interconnected and rapidly evolving. The Department of Integrated Biosciences aims to foster interdisciplinary approaches, combining bioinformatics, biotechnology, and molecular biology to address complex biological problems.
