INTRODUCTION OF THE CONFERENCE

The real key to understanding the Quran is to grasp the life and career of the man who served its delivery to humanity. The role of the Prophet Muhammad extends beyond conveying the Quran. He is to teach, explain, and implement it, thus transforming the society around him for the better through it. The study of his life is known as Seerah (Prophetic biography). His life demonstrates that Islam is a process in which both our ups and downs expose us to layers of self-knowledge and spiritual epiphany that surround life's most profound truth- La ilaha illallah (There is no God, but Allah).

Youth is considered to be the backbone of any nation. The level of moral development, civilization and consolidation of authority and potency depends on the morality of its youth. It can be said that nations survive till their ethics live Muslim Youth present the image of faith, purity of life, courage, sincerity, courtesy, kindness, bravery and altruism. It is the need of the hour that Muslim youth should emulate the good examples of their great predecessors. They should contribute greatly to the development of their communities. Muslim youth should represent Islam to other faith communities in the best manner. Therefore, department of Islamic Studies, SBBWU, Peshawar wish to gather the scholars at national and international level to think, discuss and debate critically and present the practical solution for societal change.
